

National Youth Justice Conference 2015

It's Complicated: Youth Justice and Complexity in Scotland

June 17 and 18, West Park Conference Centre, Dundee

The Centre for Youth & Criminal Justice (CYCJ) and National Youth Justice Advisory Group (NYJAG) are pleased to inform you of the Scottish Government Funded National Youth Justice Conference 2015

This free to attend two day event gives practitioners the chance to hear up-to-date youth justice research, share practice and reflect on the views of young adults who have experienced the youth and criminal justice system.

The conference will be opened by the new Minister for Justice, Michael Matheson MSP. Speakers include Martin Crewe, Director of Barnardo's Scotland and Jim Gamble QPC, former Chief Executive of the Child Exploitation and Online Protection Centre. They'll be joined by representatives from the Scottish Government, the Scottish Centre for Crime and Justice Research (SCCJR) and the Interventions for Vulnerable Youth (IVY) project, amongst others.

The conference will also feature:

- Chiring by Tam Baillie (Scotland's Commissioner for Children and Young People) and Sheriff David Mackie of Alloa. For the first time conference chairs will be joined by young people from Action for Children, who will use their experiences to co-chair and contribute to the theme of the conference.
- A variety of practice focussed workshops
- Excellent networking and practice sharing opportunities
- Conference dinner and evening entertainment

You can register via EventBrite by no later than Friday, April 24. Please note that you must have obtained your manager's permission to apply, and that places cannot be guaranteed.
